To Whom It May Concern

Dear Readers/Authors

It is stated that the article publishing template as well as process of Annals of International Medical and Dental Research (AIMDR) has been changed from Vol-7, Issue-3 | May-June, 2021. Now, all articles are published with abstract, keywords and CC license. People can download the articles in PDF version at free of cost, as AIMDR is a Gold-Open-Access Journal where all articles are available without any subscription charges.

We have added a separate section for abstract to give an overview of the main article. So researchers can read the abstract to know about the article and download the same for further reading. We hope, this initiative of AIMDR will help the research and academic community.

Annals of International Medical and Dental Research (AIMDR) is now published by Scholars Publisher, India. Publisher's address, website and email ID are given on our journal's homepage, and people can contact the publisher directly if required. If you have any question regarding your submission, access of the journal and editorial process or conflicts of interest then please contact the Chief Editor of the journal.

Authors are requested to read the following pages of our journal to know more:
